Sales Script — Plumbing Contractors

V1.0 · FOR PA-REGION RESIDENTIAL & COMMERCIAL PLUMBERS

Why this market

of inbound plumbing calls are time-sensitive: leak, clog, no hot water, sewer backup

$5K–$15K

sewer line replacement — the job financing visibility moves most

Plumbing is the most emergency-driven trade we sell to. Customers Google "emergency plumber near me" at 2 AM with a flooding basement. The plumber who picks up first wins; the plumber whose website doesn't load or doesn't have a 24/7 contact form loses regardless of skill or price. The pitch focuses on capture rate (form submissions when you can't pick up) and trust signals (reviews, license display, financing) that close the bigger jobs.

1. Pre-call research

- ☐ Google "emergency plumber [their city]" — do they show up?
- ☐ Test their website on mobile — does it load fast? Is there a giant phone number? An emergency form?
- ☐ Yelp and Google reviews — recent? Responses to bad ones?
- ☐ Are they licensed PA contractor? Most are; surface that prominently as a trust signal.

2. Opening

Required identification (TCPA): the first thing out of your mouth on every call must be your name, that you are calling from NEPA-PRO LLC, and the purpose of the call. Failure to identify violates federal law.

YOU

"Hi, this is [your first name] from NEPA-PRO — we're a veteran-owned shop in Clarks Summit. I'm calling because we built a website and emergency dispatch platform specifically for plumbers in PA. Real quick: when someone has a flooded basement at 11 PM and Googles 'emergency plumber near me,' is there any path for them to reach you besides hoping you pick up the phone?"

3. Discovery

1. "What percentage of your inbound is true emergency vs. scheduled service?"
2. "How are you handling after-hours calls today — answering service, voicemail, your cell?"
3. "When you quote a $7,000 sewer line replacement, do customers know you offer financing before they hear the number?"

4. Value pitch — plumbing-specific

1. 24/7 emergency request form — captures the homeowner who can't reach you. Texts and emails you instantly with their address, problem, and best callback number.
2. "We're 14 minutes away" service-area map — shows the homeowner you're local before they call. Plumbers within 20 minutes win against cheaper plumbers an hour out.
3. License + insurance + bond display — front-and-center. PA homeowners are wary; visible credentials close the trust gap immediately.
4. Financing for big jobs — sewer lines, water heaters, repipes. "Starts at $X/mo, $0 down" — same wedge as HVAC, even bigger impact.
5. Live review aggregation — your Google + Yelp + Facebook reviews pulled together on the homepage. Most plumbers have 50+ reviews scattered; nobody sees them all in one place.
6. Drain cleaning + maintenance subscriptions — annual sewer scope inspections, water-heater flushes. Recurring revenue, churn-resistant.
7. Branded follow-ups after every job — automatic review request via text 24 hours after work is completed. Most plumbers do great work; few systematically capture the social proof.

5. Pricing & CTA

YOU

"Best thing I can do is give you 15 minutes on Zoom — I'll have mockups for [their company] with your service area mapped, your license displayed, and the financing positioning we'd recommend. Tuesday or Wednesday this week?"

6. Plumbing-specific objections

THEY SAY	YOU SAY
"My phone never stops ringing — I don't need more leads."	"Got it. Then this isn't a lead-gen pitch. It's a quality-of-life pitch. The form filters the easy stuff (hours, service area, basic price) so when you do call back, you're already past the qualifying step."
"I have an answering service."	"Keep them. The form runs in parallel — homeowners who'd rather type their problem at midnight do, and your service handles the rest. You don't lose either channel."
"My techs handle Yelp / reviews."	"Most owners think their guys are doing it. Almost none are doing it consistently. We automate the ask — text goes out 24 hours after every job, completed by you in our system. Reviews come in automatically."
"My customers are old, they don't use websites."	"Their kids do. The kid who's helping mom find a plumber Googles you. Make sure what they find tells the story you want them to read."
"I work mostly through Service Titan / commercial accounts."	"That's awesome — keep all that. The site is for the residential side and the new commercial leads finding you cold. Service Titan stays your back office."

7. After the call

- ☐ If booked → calendar invite within 5 minutes, mark Qualified
- ☐ If LVM → use the Voicemail Script doc, mark LVM, send Email Follow-up
- ☐ If "not interested" → polite exit, mark Lost
- ☐ If "remove me" → mark Do Not Call immediately, no follow-up

For pricing, "send me an email," and other generic pushback, see the Objection Handling Library.
